Many places profess to have something for everyone, only to fall far short of the claim. The Yard House, on the other hand, makes no such claims, but does have something cool and delicious that would satisfy the wants of any American with a pulse.

The upscale, casual restaurant features an open design with a contrasting mix of warm woods, stainless steel accents, original artwork, plush booths and ample seating. The space is dominated by a large, wooden, oval-shaped bar sporting an amazing array of draft beer tap handles, which depending on the location can easily reach 250 different brands. There are even windows into the restaurant's massive keg room and its 400+ barrels and fittings.

The Yard House food menu pays homage to America's favorite foods, including individual size pizzas, seafood, steaks, ribs, chops and pastas. Among the house specialties is the comfort classic (Mac & Cheese)², a tempting dish made with roasted chicken breast, bacon, wild mushrooms, cheddar and Parmesan cheese with castellane pasta. It's a soul satisfying dish.

The draft menu at the Yard House reads like a Who's Who of the beer world. For guests looking to try something new, the restaurant offers a six-pack flight of beers presented in smaller glassware to facilitate responsible sampling. In addition, the bar promotes draft beer floats, divinely inspired concoctions such as Lindeman's Framboise with vanilla ice cream.

The bar is also known for their stellar drink specialties, including the popular favorite Bikini Tini, a fanciful cocktail starring Cruzan Banana and Malibu Pineapple rums and RémyRed Red Berry Infusion.

Seriously great food, lively atmosphere, scores of flat screen TVs, a nearly unlimited selection of the world's finest beers, and an extensive offering of groovy drinks make the Yard House an unpretentious, national treasure. —RP
